

The Launch of FORE School of Jewellery Design (FSJD)

On March 27, 2025, FORE came together with the Design Academy of India (DAI) to establish the FORE School of Jewellery Design (FSJD), marking a significant milestone in jewellery design and innovation. The discussion focused on FSJD's long-term vision, growth potential, and the opportunities it will create for students in the jewellery design industry.

What sets FSJD apart from competitors—is its innovative curriculum, hands-on training, and collaborations with industry leaders. Notably, FSJD will be among the few institutions to offer gemology training, setting a new benchmark in jewellery education.

The discussion also explored the vast possibilities this initiative unlocks, including career pathways for students, industry partnerships, technological advancements in jewellery design, and potential expansion into international markets. With this collaboration between DAI and FORE, FSJD is set to elevate jewellery design education by seamlessly blending creativity, craftsmanship, and business acumen into a holistic learning experience.

This MOU signed by, Dr. Abhay Anand Tiwari, CEO at FSJD and Mr. Tarun Jain, MD at DAI, marks the beginning of an exciting journey, reinforcing our commitment to shaping the next generation of jewellery design professionals.

The event was attended by Mr. Suraj Jain, Executive Director, DAI; Mrs. Shikha Jain, Director, DAI; Ms. Mahima Verma, Co-Founder and CEO, WAOD; and Mr. Tarun Jain, Managing Director, WAOD.

From FORE, Dr. BBL Madhukar, Chairman; Dr. Abhay Anand Tiwari, CEO, FSJD; Mr. Anupam Bhaskar, Assistant General Manager, and Ms. Pratha Chhatwal, Program Head, FSJD were present.
